

Name: _____

Comparative Adverbs

Just like adjectives, adverbs can have comparative forms. These are used to compare two or more actions. Example: The red car goes fast. The blue car goes faster. The yellow car goes fastest of all. Adverbs that end in -ly need an extra modifier to help them make these forms: The red car moved quickly. The blue car moved more quickly. The yellow car moved most quickly of all. Complete the chart with the correct comparative adverb forms.

	faster	fastest
1. fast
2. quickly	more quickly	most quickly
3. sadly
4. intelligently	_____	_____
5. fearfully	_____	_____
6. rapidly	_____	_____
7. patiently	_____	_____
8. kindly	_____	_____
9. wisely	_____	_____
10. soon	_____	_____
11. recently	_____	_____
12. bravely	_____	_____
13. frequently	_____	_____
14. galdy	_____	_____
15. nervously	_____	_____
16. lately	_____	_____

Comparative Adverbs

Name: Key

Just like adjectives, adverbs can have comparative forms. These are used to compare two or more actions. Example: The red car goes fast. The blue car goes faster. The yellow car goes fastest of all. Many adverbs that end in -ly need an extra modifier to help them make these forms: The red car moved quickly. The blue car moved more quickly. The yellow car moved most quickly of all. Complete the chart with the correct comparative adverb forms.

1. fast	faster	fastest
2. quickly	more quickly	most quickly
3. sadly	more sadly	most sadly
4. intelligently	more intelligently	most intelligently
5. fearfully	more fearfully	most fearfully
6. rapidly	more rapidly	most rapidly
7. patiently	more patiently	most patiently
8. angrily	more angrily	most angrily
9. wisely	more wisely	most wisely
10. soon	sooner	soonest
11. recently	more recently	most recently
12. bravely	more bravely	most bravely
13. frequently	more frequently	most frequently
14. gladly	more gladly	most gladly
15. nervously	more nervously	most nervously
16. famously	more famously	most famously