

Name: _____

Commonly Confused Words: Allowed vs. Aloud

Allowed and aloud sound alike, but their meanings are different.

Allowed is the past tense of the verb to allow meaning to permit.

Example 1: The teacher allowed the students to talk quietly.

Aloud is an adverb meaning making sound with the voice.

Example 1: She will read her report aloud.

A l l o
w e d

Choose allowed or aloud to complete each sentence.

1. He wondered _____, "Are we lost?"
2. Is the child _____ to cross the street?
3. The nurse read _____ to the sick child.
4. Kiva laughed _____ when she saw the cat play with the string.
5. Ben's mother _____ him to stay up late.
6. Vivian _____ herself one more chocolate chip cookie as a snack.
7. Carl was thinking _____ when he said he didn't want lunch.
8. The tourists were not _____ into the museum after it closed.
9. The lawyer would never admit _____ that he thought the man was guilty.
10. No one was _____ in the office during the meeting.

Name: _____ Key

Commonly Confused Words: Allowed vs. Aloud

Allowed and aloud sound alike, but their meanings are different.

Allowed is the past tense of the verb to allow meaning to permit.

Example 1: The teacher allowed the students to talk quietly.

Aloud is an adverb meaning making sound with the voice.

Example 1: She will read her report aloud.

A
I I Aloud
w e d

Choose allowed or aloud to complete each sentence.

1. He wondered _____ aloud _____, "Are we lost?"
2. Is the child _____ allowed _____ to cross the street?
3. The nurse read _____ aloud _____ to the sick child.
4. Kiva laughed _____ aloud _____ when she saw the cat play with the string.
5. Ben's mother _____ allowed _____ him to stay up late.
6. Vivian _____ allowed _____ herself one more chocolate chip cookie as a snack.
7. Carl was thinking _____ aloud _____ when he said he didn't want lunch.
8. The tourists were not _____ allowed _____ into the museum after it closed.
9. The lawyer would never admit _____ aloud _____ that he thought the man was guilty.
10. No one was _____ allowed _____ in the office during the meeting.