

VERBALS: Infinitive, Participle, or Gerund?

Below are sentences using either an infinitive, a participle, or a gerund. Read each sentence carefully. Write which verbal form appears in the sentence in the blank.

1. Running is my father's favorite sport.

2. It's important for him to run every day.

3. He has special running shoes.

4. He likes running in the rain

5. My mother likes to hike.

6. Hiking is good for building strength.

7. There are many hiking trails near us.

8. She once had a frightening hike near a bear.

VERBALS: Infinitive, Participle, or Gerund?

Below are sentences using either an infinitive, a participle, or a gerund. Read each sentence carefully. Write which verbal form appears in the sentence in the blank.

1. Running is my father's favorite sport.

_____ gerund _____

2. It's important for him to run every day.

_____ infinitive _____

3. He has special running shoes.

_____ participle _____

4. He likes running in the rain

_____ gerund _____

5. My mother likes to hike.

_____ infinitive _____

6. Hiking is good for building strength.

_____ gerund _____

7. There are many hiking trails near us.

_____ participle _____

8. She once had a frightening hike near a bear.

_____ participle _____