

What Kind of Dependent Clause Is It?

There are several types of dependent clauses. They are often categorized by their function in a sentence. Noun clauses act as nouns; relative, or adjective, clauses act as adjectives; and adverb clauses act as adverbs.

Below are sentences that each contain a dependent clause. Underline the dependent clause and determine if the clause is a noun clause, a relative clause, or an adverb clause. Write your answer in the blank below the sentence.

- ① The doctor who helped the crash victim is my uncle.

- ② The party was canceled because a water pipe broke in the house.

- ③ What she is saying doesn't make sense.

- ④ She received a bonus allowance when she completed her chores early.

- ⑤ His parents gave him the rules that were posted on the refrigerator door.

- ⑥ While the dog chased the squirrel, the rat scurried under the fence.

- ⑦ You should tell your mother what you want for your birthday.

- ⑧ The basketball court, which is always full of players, is near Lynn's house.

What Kind of Dependent Clause Is It?

There are several types of dependent clauses. They are often categorized by their function in a sentence. Noun clauses act as nouns; relative, or adjective, clauses act as adjectives; and adverb clauses act as adverbs.

Below are sentences that each contain a dependent clause. Underline the dependent clause and determine if the clause is a noun clause, a relative clause, or an adverb clause. Write your answer in the blank below the sentence.

- ① The doctor who helped the crash victim is my uncle.

relative clause

- ② The party was canceled because a water pipe broke in the house.

adverb clause

- ③ What she is saying doesn't make sense.

noun clause

- ④ She received a bonus allowance when she completed her chores early.

adverb clause

- ⑤ His parents gave him the rules that were posted on the refrigerator door.

relative clause

- ⑥ While the dog chased the squirrel, the rat scurried under the fence.

adverb clause

- ⑦ You should tell your mother what you want for your birthday.

noun clause

- ⑧ The basketball court, which is always full of players, is near Lynn's house.

relative clause
