

Latin and Greek Root Words: Spect and Rect

Latin and Greek are the source of many root words in English. Spect/spec comes from the Latin word meaning “look” or “watch.” Rect is from another Latin word meaning “straight.” When combined with a prefix, suffix, or another root word, these root words become common English words. For example, the word ending -ator means someone who does and action. Combine spect with -ator, and you have the word spectator. Based on its original meaning, spectator means “someone who watches.”

Use the list of prefixes, suffixes, and word endings in the word bank to make five different English words out of spect/spec and rect. You may add an additional prefix or suffix, or change the spelling a little if needed. Write a sentence for each word you make and circle the word you made from the root word. Be sure and find words for both spect/spec and rect.
