Important Writing Parts: Introduction, Body and Conclusion

There are usually three parts to opinion texts. The introduction tells the reader the opinion of the author. The body contains the reasons for the opinion. The conclusion ends the text.

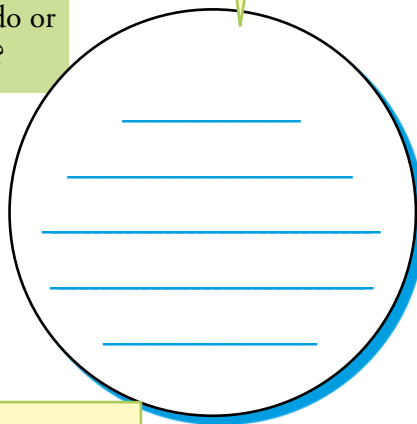

The conclusion is a very important part of the text. It is the last thing the reader will read.

Below are circles to help organize your writing. Write an opinion piece on the subject below. Write the introduction in the top circle. Write a reason in each of the three middle circles. Write a conclusion in the bottom circle.

When I grow up, I want to...

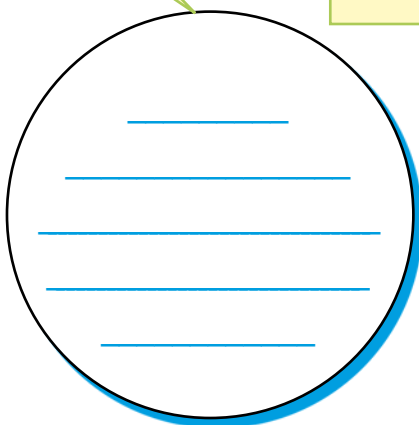

What would you like to be or do when you grow up? Why do you want to do or be that? Why is it interesting to you?
